1960

Published by the Student Body of the University of Massachusetts, MASS.

DEDICATION

It is only fitting that the class of 1960 which, more than any other class has experienced the tremendous expansion of the University, dedicate this record of their life to the individual who has done the most to effect this growth — President Jean Paul Mather. During the past five years, Dr. Mather has done much to raise the status of the University among the institutions of higher learning. His enthusiasm and integrity will serve as an inspiration to all — Massachusetts will always mean the more to us for his having been an integral part of it.

The University in the News

Our University was often in the public eye this year — perhaps more than ever before. Local and Boston newspapers carried stories and pictures of the fight for faculty pay raises: the student march on the State House this summer, the resignation of President Mather, and finally, the achievement of the pay hike.

Further publicity was brought about by the announcement of a "dry" campus" at U Mass; and the election of a new football coach, Charles Studley, brought the campus even closer to the full attention of the public.

Perhaps our University, if such publicity keeps on, will become even better known, and the people of Massachusetts will come to realize what an important part this institution plays in the necessary education of the young people of the Commonwealth.

The resignation was made in what could only be termed complete disgust at the treatment meted out to the university in recent weeks by the Massachusetts Legislature.

Charles Studley Chosen As Head Redmen Coach

Charles B. "Chuck" Studley, line coach at the University of Illinois for the past five years, has been chosen to succeed Charlie O'Rourke as the Redmen's head coach. O'Rourke had resigned at the conclusion of the 1959 season after eight years as head Redmen football coach.

Director of Athletics Warren McGuirk commented: "The University feels very fortunate to have been able to secure the services of Charles Studley to guide its football program. He is a highly respected young coach who has made a tremendous impression in the Big Ten..."

A native of Maywood, Illinois, Studley spent two years in the U.S. Navy following graduation from Pontiac (Ill.) High School. He was a letterman at the University of Illinois for three years as a guard. He also captained the 1951 Illinois squad which was Big Ten Champion and went on to defeat Stanford University 40-7 in the 1952 Rose Bowl Game.

A spokesman for the screening committee indicated that "Studley's youth was a major factor in his selection, for we wanted a dynamic young coach for a young dynamic state university."

Several years ago Massachusetts began an attempt to raise its football program to the high level of the academic achievements of the school. Last fall for the first time the UMass football squad finished second in the Yankee Conference and perhaps the new football regime will be able to push the Redmen even higher in the New England football realm.

Sept. A large number of surprised students returned to the U Mass campus last week. President Jean Paul Mather of the University announced that the use or storage of alcoholic beverages on the campus, in any campus controlled building, or at any campus social function has been banned.

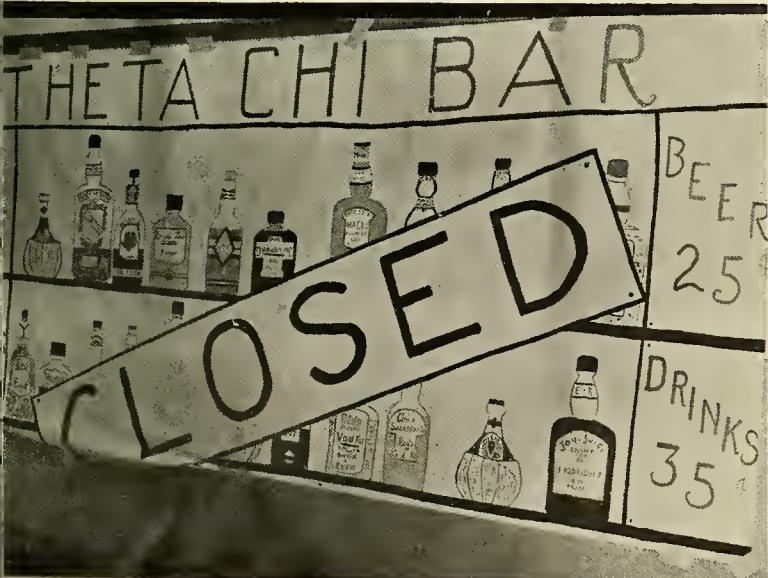

Any student found violating this rule will be punished accordingly.

Mather as yet has made no statement concerning the reason for this sudden change in policy.

No more use for these

FACULTY

The Faculty, as the guiding element in our search for knowledge, has made ever-advancing steps in the educational process in conjunction with the physical growth of the University.

In the past months we were sorry to see some members of the faculty leave us and eager to welcome the new. Perhaps the controversial issue of faculty salary raises and the enthusiastic part the students and administration played in securing these illustrate our estimation and appreciation of our instructors and professors.

In our theme of progress at the University of Massachusetts, we find many of the faculty who are undertaking special projects and research in addition to their teaching duties. The faculty, in the capacity of student advisors, teachers and in their independent endeavors have shown extreme individual and collective ability of which we may well be proud.

With the ever-increasing emphasis in our country on the need for better science education in our universities and colleges, the University of Massachusetts has presented an educational program in this field which is noteworthy. Many graduates of our University have gone on to achieve prominent positions in science and have been recognized and honored in Who's Who in American Men of Science. We have many noted men of science on the University faculty, such as Dr. Ritchie of the chemistry department, who is doing independent research in the field of high polymer chemistry.

Founded as a landgrant college in 1863, for the purpose of education in agriculture, U. Mass. has progressed from this to an institution including many schools and colleges devoted to education in a wide range of fields. With the realization of the need for progress in science in the nation and its educational institutions, there has also been a recognition of the need for an emphasis on the aesthetic, cultural, and intellectual aspects of liberal arts' education. The institutions of higher learning in the country have at times been accused of what is popularly termed "intellectual apathy." In the face of such challenges to greater intellectual achievement, the colleges and universities have provided increasingly strong programs in liberal arts education in addition to that of science.

With the emphasis on the intellectual, cultural, and aesthetic aspects of a liberal arts education, the University's various schools and colleges have endeavored to keep pace with this advancement. One of these that has shown recent progress and development has been the English Department which is now headed by Dr. Vernon Helming, who is acting head during the sabbatical leave of Dr. Maxwell Goldberg.

Dr. Goldberg, who has taken a year-long sabbatical in order to write a book on "The Humanities in Action" for Prentice-Hall, is but one example of the progress in individual pursuit which our English Department has made.

Well-known in literary circles, as well as in the University and Amherst worlds, is Dr. Frank Prentice Rand, the author of Amherst: A Village Landmark. He has also accomplished further achievement in poetry and art.

The University may be proud to have in its midst the recent addition of Associate Professor Joseph Langland, who came to us from the University of Wyoming. As a representative modern poet, Professor Langland has made a recording of his own verse for the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. for its prominent collection.

Also on sabbatical leave during 1959-60 has been Professor Copeland, who is in England. His main field of endeavor has been the editing of The Correspondence of Edmund Burke to be published by the Cambridge University Press in Cambridge, England. This, indeed, is a notable pursuit and a credit to the University.

Also new to the English Department is Miss Audrey Duckert, who is continuing her research and definition-writing for the third edition of Webster's New International Dictionary to be published in 1961 by the G. and C. Merriam Company.

Little known are the pursuits of these and many other members of the faculty. Their professional activities and scope which extend outside of teaching and administration are not realized and are not given substantial credit. The list is unlimited and many more may be mentioned briefly here with their publications and research: Associate Professor David Clark and his study of the development of W. B. Yeats as a dramatist; Assistant Professor Arnold Silver and his editing of the correspondences of Samuel Butler as well as preparations for a critical study of Butler's novels; Mr. Raymond Gozzi and his psychological studies in David Henry Thoreau; Dr. Sidney Kaplan and his studies of Herman Melville; and Mr. Paul Lauter and his work on the second section of his book on rhetoric in American literature. These are but a few of the many professional pursuits.

Not to be neglected is the new Massachusetts Review. Published for the first time this fall, there are many contributions included in it by members of the faculty. On the editorial board are such present and past members of the English Department as Dr. Sidney Kaplan, former Professor Frederick S. Troy, Assistant Professor Jules Chametzky and Associate Professor David Clark. Original contributions may be attributed to Dr. G. Stanley Koehler, who had four poems included in the Review.

This publication is but another indication of the pursuits which individual faculty members have been making in order to further themselves as well as to display greater initiative and quality in their performances as educators.

The creative talent, profound knowledge, and ability of the various members of the English Department has been of great service to the University in the classroom. Every student in the freshman and sophomore English classes as well as the present 187 English majors have benefited intellectually from such capable professorship. The quality of English majors who have gone on to graduate school, teaching and various literary pursuits testifies to the high caliber of undergraduate education received.

Instruction in the Humanities is undergoing never-ending changes such as the addition of new courses and requirements for a degree. This active and intelligent search for improvement is furthering the intellectual standing of the University and its graduates. We may look with pride to the past as well as the future at our achievement in the pursuit of learning in the Humanities.

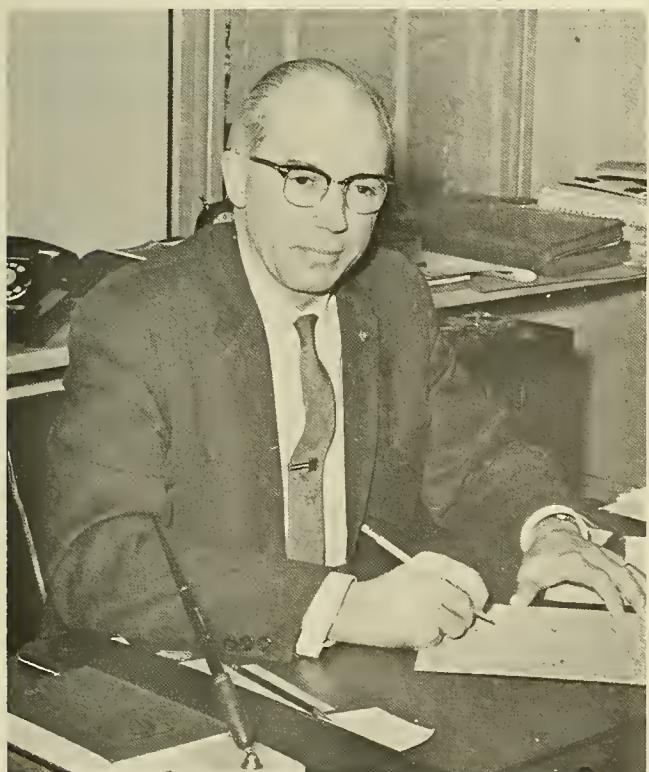

Our past year under the guidance of the faculty in each school and college within the university has produced a balance in the pursuit of learning. The University of Massachusetts is certainly worthy of eminence in the high position it has taken in every field of education from science to the Humanities. We have certainly accomplished a noteworthy equilibrium between the intellectual and the theoretical in higher education.

COACH "LARRY" BRIGGS

In tribute to Mr. Briggs whose dedication to athletics at the University has proven an inspiration to all who have known him. In his twenty-five years as Soccer Coach at U. Mass. and by his efforts to further that sport in areas outside the University Coach Briggs has become known as Mr. Soccer and is noted for his work throughout the East. A graduate of the University class of '27 Mr. Briggs typifies the spirit of a true alumnus of the University of Massachusetts.

Led by Ralph Buschman and Co-Captains Jim Keelon and Dick Atkinson, the 1959 Varsity Cross Country team posted the best record of the fall sports season as they defeated six of their opponents losing only to Harvard and New Hampshire.

The harriers defeated Maine, Northeastern, Union, Boston University, and Springfield. At Springfield, Buschman set a new course record for the four and one half mile grind.

In the Yankee Conference Championships Coach Footrick's team placed fourth as Buschman set the pace for the University finishing in fourth position.

Other consistent scorers throughout the season were Jim Hainer, Joe Kelsey, Laury Kenerson and Harold Barron.

Barron and Buschman were elected Co-Captains for the 1960 season.

The Soccer team had a rough season, with a record of two wins and seven losses. The opening game against Coast Guard saw our boys surprised by the cadets for the first time in four years resulting in a 4-0 loss. However, the team bounced back in their next game by defeating Clark 4-0. The next three games were hard fought losses against the three top New England teams; Williams, Connecticut, and Trinity. Against W.P.I. the booters managed to eke out a 1-0 victory to boost the team's morale. The last three games being lost to Springfield, Amherst, and Tufts, were all close scores in which the decisive goals were scored in the last minutes of play.

All members of the team deserve credit for their fine spirit and sportsmanship displayed throughout the season. The team felt the absence of Mr. Briggs who missed his first year of coaching in many years because of a serious illness. The club was taken over by Coach Bischoff whose leadership developed it into one of the best conditioned clubs in the New England area.

*Yankee Conference Games

The 1959-60 edition of the UMass basketball team compiled a 14-10 record, second highest amount of victories in UM hoop history, under the tutelage of new head coach Matt Zunic. Except for a four-game tailspin near season's end, the Redmen had a successful season.

A weekend trip to Bates and Colby early in December opened the year. At Bates the Redmen had trouble adjusting to Zunic's complex defensive patterns and dropped a 75-67 tilt. Four starters fouled out as Bates converted 41 of 53 free throws to gain the upset. But the next night UMass eked out a one-point win at Colby, 50-49, with the starting team playing all but two minutes.

A large crowd turned out to welcome Coach Zunic at the first home game, but a spirited Boston University team whipped UM, 71-57, despite 24 points by Grutchfield. A week later the Redmen, led by sophomore Mike Mole's 21 points, upset UConn, 62-60, and began a three-month stay in first place in the Yankee Conference. UConn had the ball for the final 30 seconds but was unable to score. Twenty points and 18 rebounds by Grutchfield sparked the club to a lop-sided 77-47 win over Vermont and sent UMass into the Springfield College Invitational Tourney with a 3-2 record.

With Bob Eichorn, Fred Naedele and Grutch combining for 53 points UMass whipped Amherst, 67-52, in the opening round. In the semi-final game with Williams, Eichorn demonstrated great clutch shooting by scoring 21 points in the second half as UM won and moved into the finals against A.I.C.

The Redmen established themselves as the class of the tourney by winning in easy fashion, 82-51, as all of the starting team scored in double-figures. The championship was captured through solid team play and the night was highlighted with Grutchfield receiving the Most Valuable Player award.

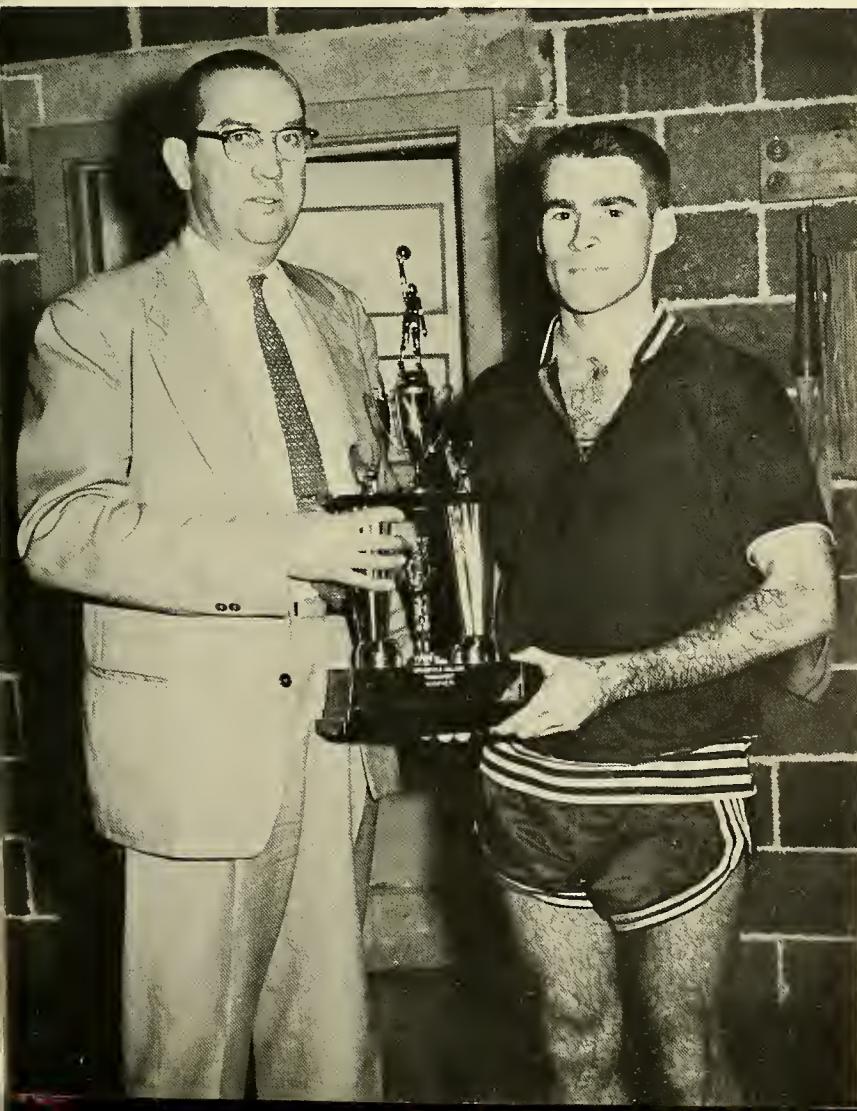

Sparked by their five-game winning streak, UM had high hopes of upsetting

Holy Cross. A large delegation of Umies traveled to Worcester and saw Eichorn toss in 15 first half points to keep the Redmen in striking distance. But the Crusaders broke loose in the final 12 minutes of the game, as Jack "Shot" Foley ripped the cords for 28 points, to bury UMass.

Back in the friendly confines of the Cage, the team smashed Brandeis with a season's high of 93 points, led by Grutch's 23 and Ike's 20. In the final game before exams a fantastic shooting exhibition by West Point dealt UM an 80-70 loss. The Cadets sank 29 of 50 shots to overcome 25 points by Grutch and 22 by Mole.

Following finals two shoddy performances saw the team's record drop to 7-6. B.C. built up a 20-point halftime lead to win over the favored Redmen. Springfield College then hit 31 of 35 free throws to edge UM, 69-63, in a foul-filled contest.

The Cage was jammed as the Redmen opened the second half of the season with an important Conference game against Rhode Island. The hot-shooting Rams led by nine points at the half, and with seven minutes left UMass still trailed by seven. But with Kirk Leslie (playing his first varsity game) and Fred Naedele leading the way the Redmen tied the game at 51-51. The final five minutes was filled with brilliant basketball as the teams matched baskets. Finally a tap-in by John Widdison and four foul shots by Mike Mole gave UM a 69-66 win.

And for the second time UMass was off to a five-game winning streak. Leslie's 20 points helped stop Williams. The team, however, lost a key performer in the opening five seconds when senior Fred Naedele broke his wrist. Grutch scored 30 and grabbed 17 rebounds in a win over Northeastern, and victories over A.I.C. and UNH brought the team's record to 12-6.

The final six games were all against Conference opposition. Despite a brilliant 17-point performance by Mole in the opening half, UConn got revenge and scalped our Warriors. Still leading the Conference race, the Redmen ran into their most fantastic defeat in the final 2½ seconds at Rhode Island and lost, 76-75. Three baskets by Grutch and a free throw by Dave Elson brought the team from a six-deficit with 48 seconds left. But Rhody managed two shots, a dribble and a rebound in 2½ seconds to get the win.

A let-down followed and UM was upset by UNH (despite 35 points by Ike) and UVM to drop out of the YanCon race.

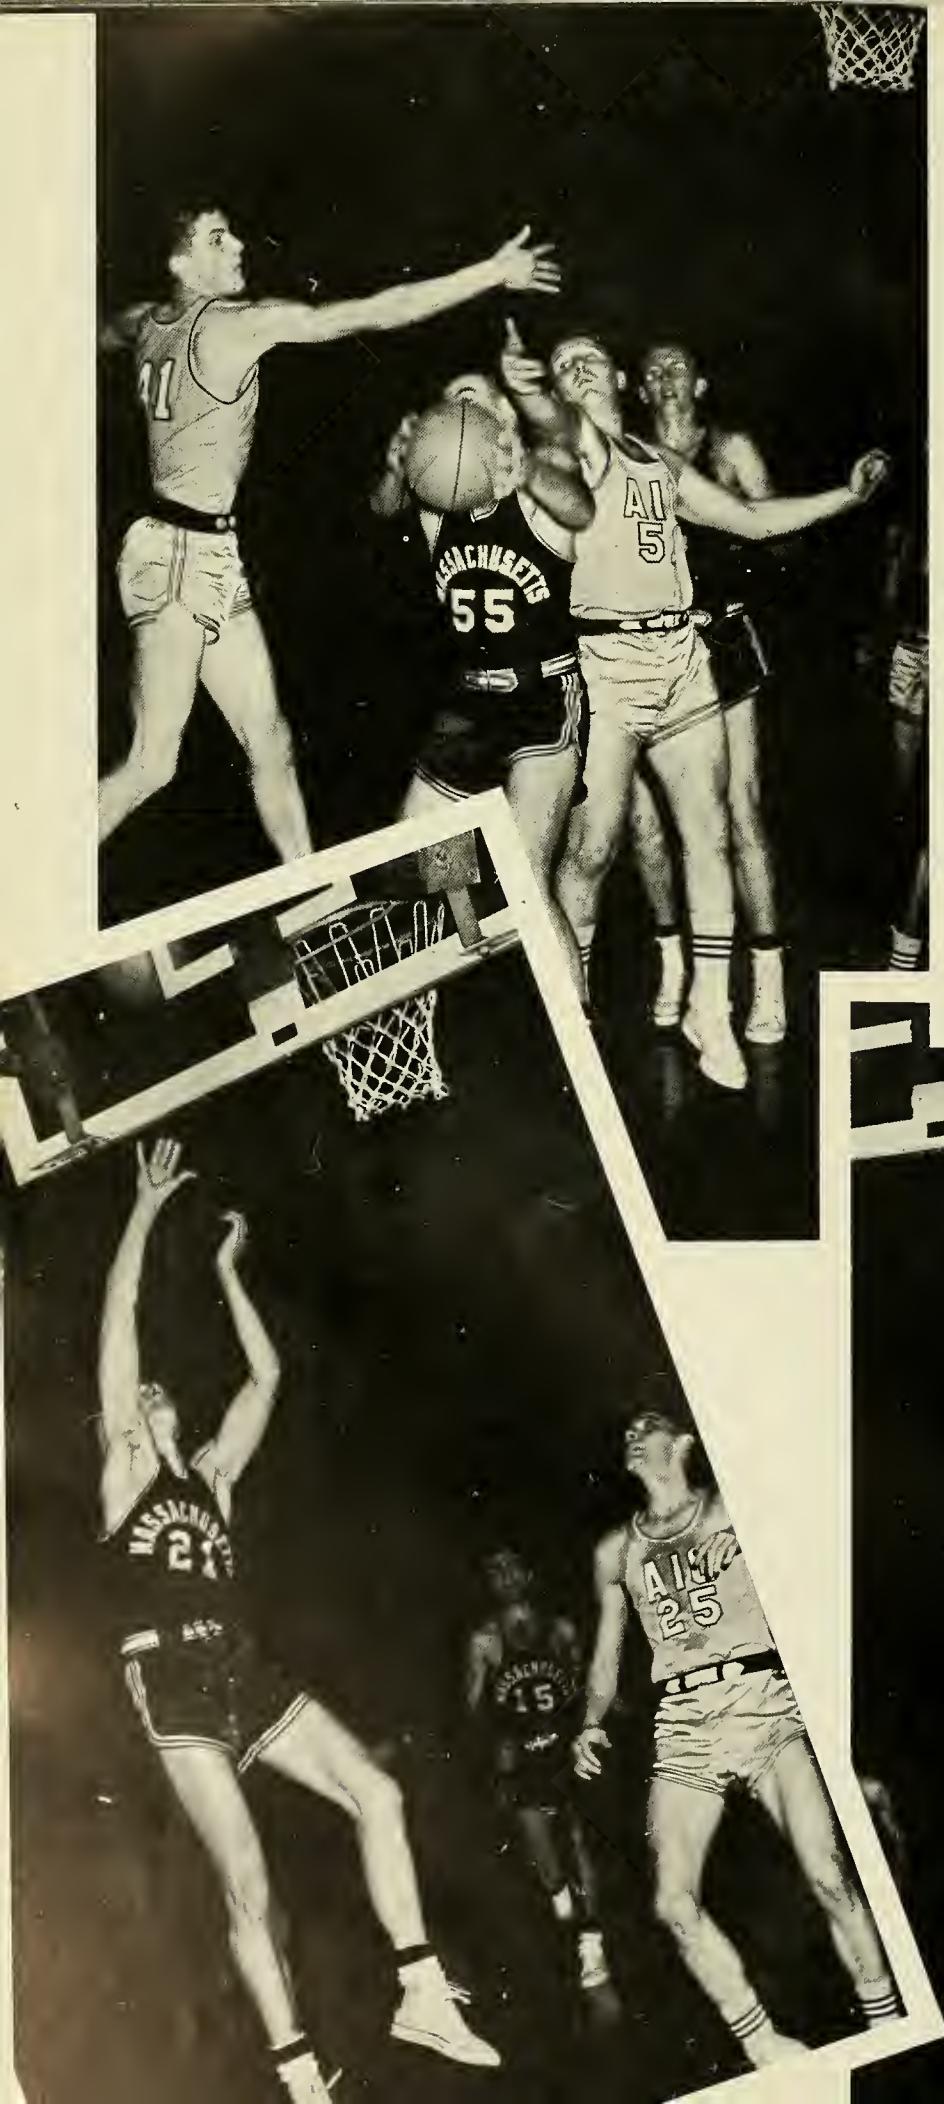

But the season ended happily. Maine came to Amherst sporting a 19-2 mark, and was rudely treated (73-60 and 79-71) by the Redmen. Grutch and Ike were outstanding in both games but received great support from the rest of the squad.

TOURNEY ACTION

Bright spot of the season was the winning of the Springfield Tourney. The Redmen whipped Amherst, Williams and A.I.C. to top the eight-team field.

The UM starters, Grutchfield, Naedele, Fohlin, Eichorn and Mole all turned in top performances.

A key to the championship was the strong reserve play of Capt. Leo LeBlanc, John Widdison and Jim Laughnane.

Strong team play over the final third of the season enabled the Redmen to finish the campaign with hopes of better things to come next year. Wins over Tufts, Wesleyan, Amherst and Williams in the last portion of the schedule brought the season's record to 5-12. Highlights were the outstanding team performance in wins over rival Amherst College and Williams. Also a great comeback in the final minutes of play that gave UMass a win over Cornell in the Bowdoin Tourney. Individual standouts were goalie Bob Roland who averaged 33 saves per game, steady defensive work by Captain Ted Kelley, and a good first line of Tom Taylor, Jim Rosenberg and Bill Ryan that accounted for 28 Redmen goals.

Ryan, Taylor, and Rosenberg combined to score 28 goals for the Redmen.

VARSITY GYMNASTICS

This year's Varsity Gymnastics team ended the season with a 4 win, 3 loss record under the leadership of Coach Bob James and Captain Heinz Briegel. The three losses suffered in the middle of the season were to West Point, Springfield, and Temple University, all three being the gymnastics strongholds of the East. The season is considered very successful even with the losses.

Heinz Briegel, taking first place in all the events he entered with the exception of five second places was the team stronghold. His highly skilled performances throughout the year gained applause from all audiences. Fred Petersen veteran ring man returned to the team in February to make one of the strongest ring triads in the East, consisting of Paydos, Bitgood, and Petersen. It is only fitting that credit also be given Jim Adam, Al Ober, and Bob Coffin who were also outstanding.

Lack of match experience hurt the Redmen wrestling team during the 1959-60 season. The grapplers, under the direction of Coach John Douglas managed to win just two matches, against Worcester Polytech and Connecticut.

However the team started to show signs of promise during the New England Tournament held at Williams College early in March. The Redmen tied for fifth place, the best showing in UMass history. Individual standouts in the tourney for UMass were Dick Riley, who finished fourth in the unlimited weight class; and Gordie Wallace who captured a second place in the 157 lb. bracket.

VARSITY INDOOR TRACK

The Varsity indoor track team had tough sledding throughout the winter campaign and compiled a record of one win and four losses, but the season had its bright spots.

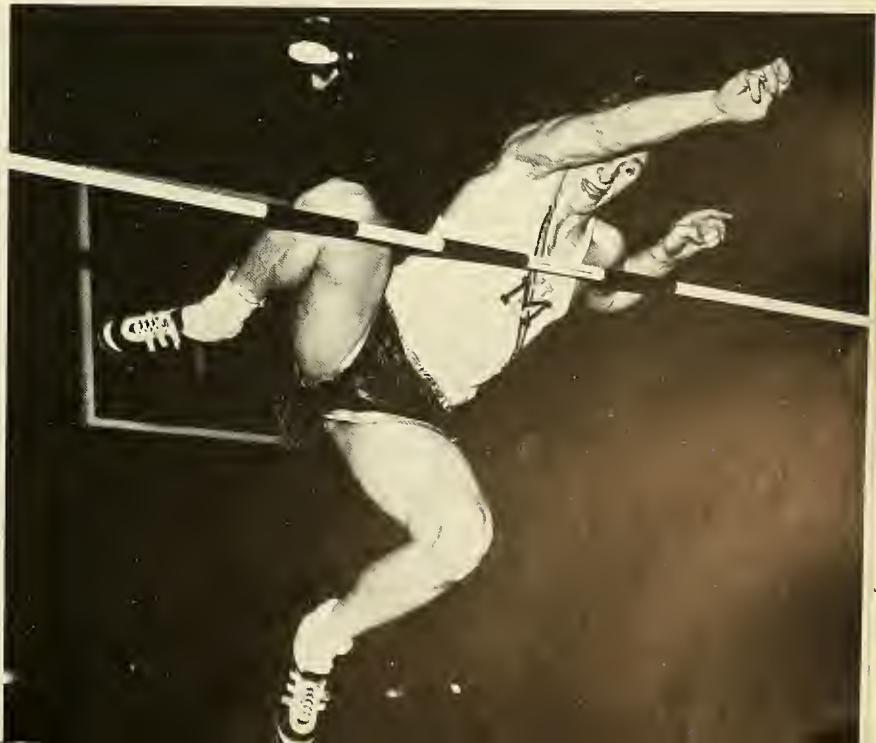

In the B.A.A. games in Boston the UMass Mile Relay team, Jim Keelon, Joe La Marre, Ron Young and Everett Brinson won the Varsity special event.

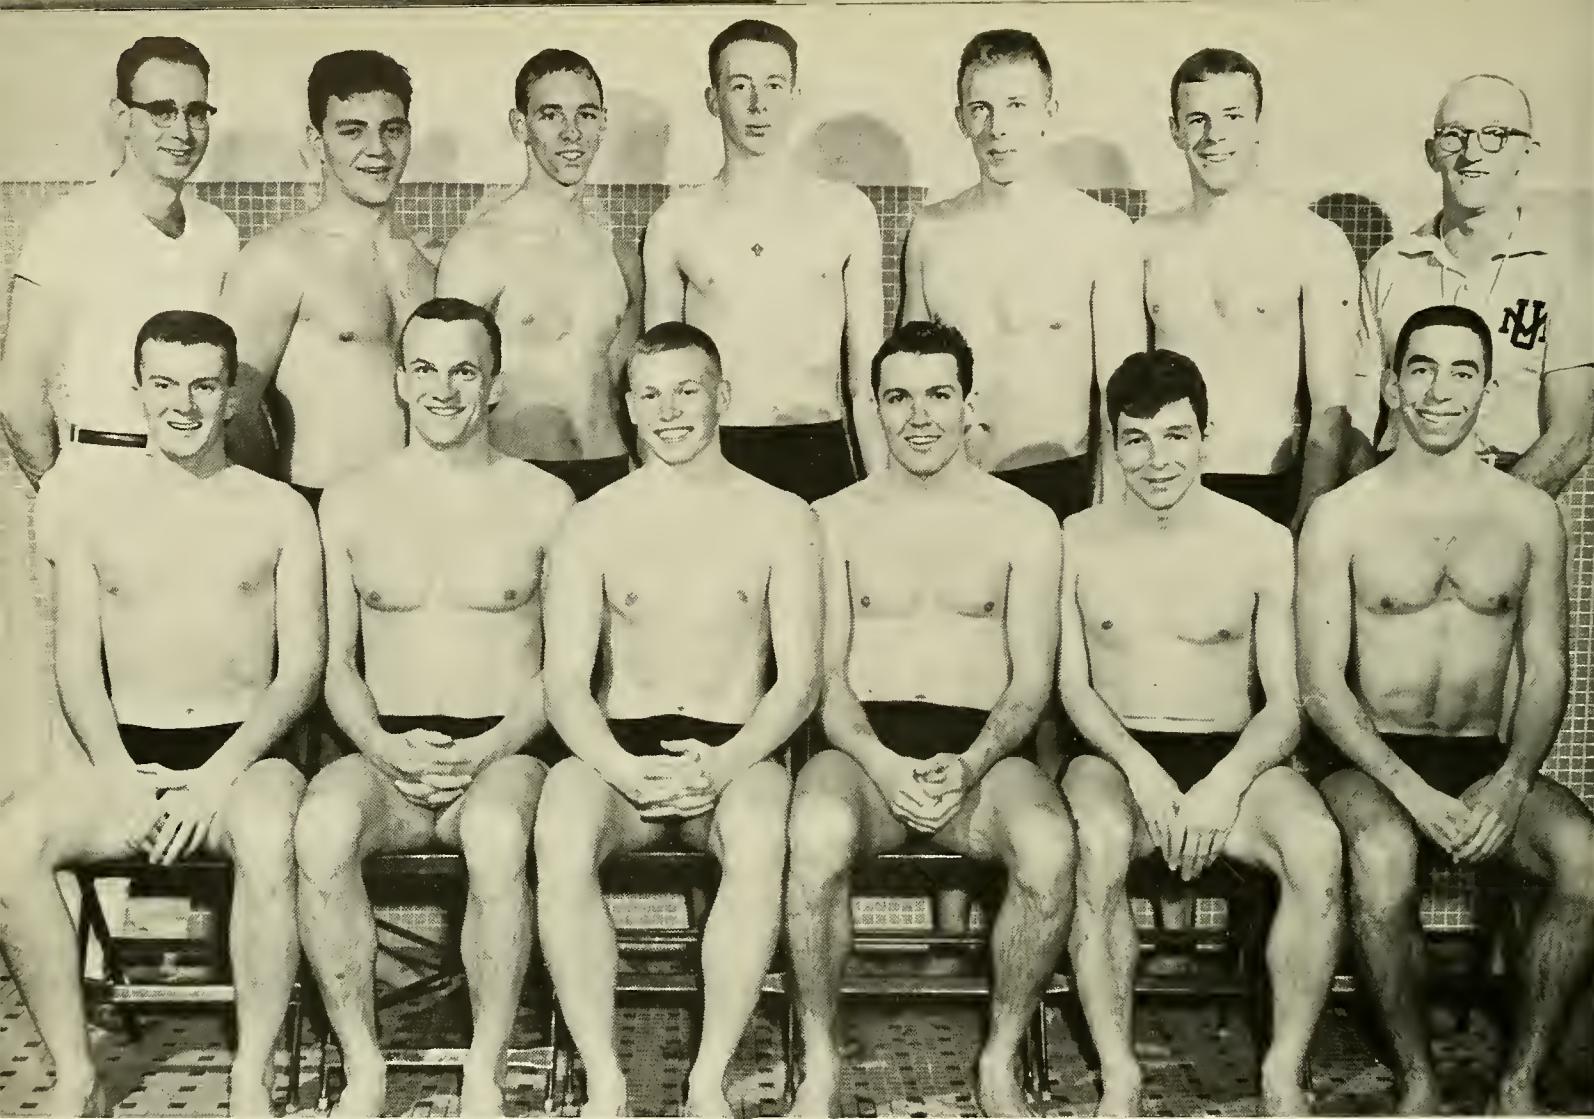

Other fine performances were turned in by Roger Kindred who threw the 35 lb hammer 51 feet which nearly eclipsed the school record. Jim Keelon who replaced the ailing Ralph Buschmann in the mile and turned in the seasons best time of 4 mins. 37.3 secs. and Jim Allen who was beaten only once in the pole vault event.

Letter winners were Keelon, Kindred, Allen, Buschmann, LaPier, Brinson, LaMarre, Kith, Reilly, Karshick, and Cassidy.

The Redmen lone win was over New Hampshire and defeats came at the hands of Connecticut, Holy Cross, Boston College and Northeastern. Troubled by lack of depth, the team battled flu and bad weather throughout the season.

Spring opponents included Springfield, Connecticut, Tufts, Holy Cross and Brandeis.

VARSITY SWIMMING

The Varsity Swim Team posted a 3-6 record this winter matching last year's slate. Coach Joe Rogers had one consolation in Ben Knight, team captain and Matt Rutkowski who were consistent double winners in the freestyle events.

The team had victories over Holy Cross, Tufts, and Worcester Tech. The win over Worcester was the 27th consecutive win over this team for the Rogers men.

At the New England Intercollegiate meet, Ben Knight scored for the University in his specialty, the 50 yard freestyle.

Lettermen included Don Dixon and Jack Knight in the Butterfly and relay events, Dave Goldstein in the Backstroke, Dave Des Jardins in the Breaststroke, and Ben Knight, Rutkowski, Dave Osterhout and Andy Grace in the freestyle. Don Saluta And Charlie Leverone along with John Cushing were the teams diving trio.

VARSITY LACROSSE

Under the direction of Coach "Dick" Garber the U.Mass Lacrosse team has become one of the outstanding athletic teams of the school. In the short space of five years the team has come from virtual nothingness to one of the top ranking teams of the East.

The Garbermen ended the 1959 season with a 6 win 3 loss record. Included in their wins were 2 shut out games against W.P.I. and Wesleyan. The first shut out games ever achieved by a UMass lacrosse team. Credit can be given to the fine defensive work of Allen, Mann, and Boyle as well as goalie "Punchy" Glorioso who held the opposition's scoring to 38 as compared to Mass' 73 total season goals.

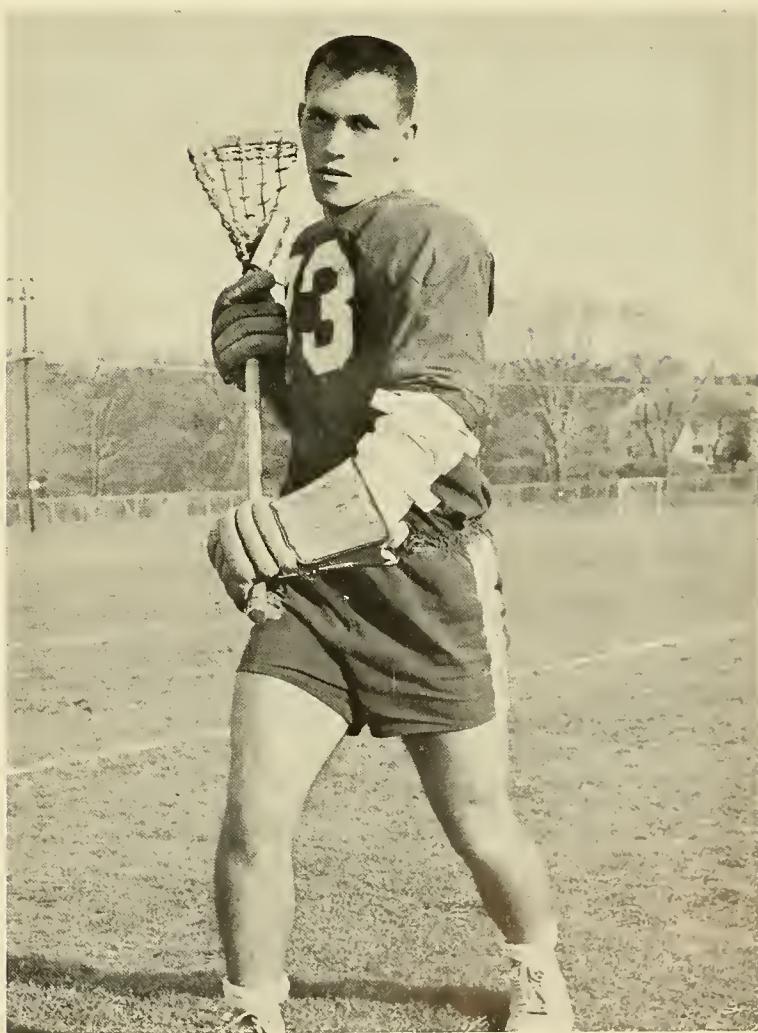

Maxewell, Treadwell, and Williams combined to score almost three fourths of the Redmen's total goals. The high point of the season was the defeat of a favored Holy Cross team by a score of 5-6. With the return of all but three lettermen we are assured of another successful season in 1960.

By performing at concerts and dances on campus the group has been able to bring the "big band sound" to the student body. The "sound" is not the only thing the band is noted for however. New ideas in jazz and new concepts of the idiom have constantly been presented through the composing and arranging of the group's present leader, trombonist John "Jiggs" Maggs. His treatment of the meaning of jazz and its place in the modern society have helped the band to span heights which would seem impossible to the average musical organization.
